BRITAIN FINDS NEW DOMINION MARKET CANADA OFFERS LARGE TRADE OPPORTUNITY LITTLE PROGRESS MADE IN FINANCE PARLEY

Ottawa, To-day.

A new field of trade which would be worth approximately $40,000,000 to Great Britain, is opened by Canada as an inducement for preferences from the Mother Country, for preferences on Canadian primary products, such as wheat, timber, fruit, beef and mineral products. The announcement of the nearest of an agreement between the delegates from Great Britain and those of the Dominion, was made to-day during the progress of the Imperial Conference here.

Canada has offered Great Britain generous treatment on a wide range of articles, and in view of the already-declared policy of the Home Government to give Empire countries preferences or protection of some sort, it is concluded that a satisfactory agreement will be reached.

Canada will sell a billion feet of timber to Britain every year, if the reciprocal plan is consummated.

There has been little progress in the monetary section of the Conference. There is little likelihood of unanimity. The delegates will probably be content to establish the general principles of a steady Empire exchange rate. Farther than that it is unlikely they will be able to proceed until after the sessions of World Economic Conference, which will probably meet in London in the near future.

WATERLOO ROAD NULLAH. OVERFLOWS.

Flood In Ho Mun Tin District.

LAST NIGHT'S HEAVY DOWNPOUR.

Kowloon City Collapse.

The heavy rains yesterday afternoon caused a party wall at Tung Hing Village, Kowloon City district, to collapse. Fortunately, the only occupant of the premises, a Chinese woman had just gone out when the fall occurred. The collapse was partly due to a semi-demolished house adjoining the site.

The torrential rain storm that swept the Colony shortly before 8 o'clock last night, was one of the heaviest downpours experienced in the past few weeks of rain. Many sections of Nathan Road were flooded, a wide area covering practically half the width of the road, being outside the Majestic Theatre. Water rushed down in torrents on the steps leading to St. Andrew's Church, while a similar sight was witnessed at the Indian Military Barracks.

The nullah in Waterloo Road, just past the junction of Ho Mun Tin Street, overflowed, gallons of muddy water flowing in all directions, along Dundas Street, Peace Avenue, Kwong Wah Road, and extending to President. Apartments in Nathan Road, and as far as the Yau-mat-ti Railway Station. The water in the nullah rose by about ten feet to overflow. Many Ho Mun Tin residents experienced difficulty in wading through rushing water, a foot deep in parts.

Motorbuses and other, vehicular traffic also had difficulty in moving. This morning P.W.D. coolies were engaged in clearing the mud from the roads.

During the 24 hours ended at 10.30 a.m. to-day, 5.08 inches of rain was recorded, of which 2.08 inches fell between 8 and 9 p.m. last night.

FLOOD HAVOC IN MANCHURIA.

Thousands of Troops
Marooned.

BIG LOSS OF LIFE FEARED

Harbin, To-day.

Widespread havoc to homes and crops has been caused by the overflow of the Sungari and other rivers in Manchuria, inundating large tracts of land. All traffic on the Chinese Eastern Railway has been suspended, breakdown gangs composed of five thousand men and fifty trains having waged an unsuccessful battle against the elements. Bridges have been washed away and many miles of track submerged.

Aeroplanes are dropping supplies to troops, thousands of which are marooned. It is feared there is considerable loss of life, but this is at present not appraisable. — Reuter.

THE MANCHUKUO CUSTOMS.

Mr. Smith Hands Over
Keys.

CHINESE EMPLOYEES WILL RECEIVE PASSPORTS.

Harbin, To-day.

After negotiations lasting four hours with the Manchukuo authorities, the Commissioner of Posts, Mr. F. L. Smith, agreed to hand over the keys of the Post Office and safes.

The Manchukuo has agreed to issue passports to all postal employees, who wish to leave for China. Only twenty of the old postal staff are working for the Manchukuo. — Reuter.

Two Chinese women who suffered from immersion, as the result of being accidentally knocked into the harbour from the Yau-mat-ti Ferry wharf, were sent to the Government Civil Hospital. One of them also suffered slight injury.

THE IRISH DISPUTE

SIR T. INSKIP IS OPTIMISTIC.

De Valera Holds Land
Annuities.

NEEDS £2,000,000 FOR EMERGENCY ESTIMATES.

Offer For Empire
Tribunal.

Dublin, To-day.

While President Eamon De Valera is apparently seeking to appropriate the Land Annuities to an Emergency Fund, Sir Thomas Inskip, Attorney-General of Great Britain, still has hopes that the dispute with the Free State may be ended. It all depends, he says, whether Mr. De Valera wants to break from the Empire.

The Emergency Estimates Debate was adjourned to-day.

It is believed that Mr. De Valera intends to divert to an Emergency Fund the money collected in Land Annuities from the Free State farmers, which he recently seized and held in suspense instead of handing it to Great Britain, as treaty obligations required.

The annuities would normally amount to £1,500,000, but it is doubtful whether half of that amount has been or will be collected. The farmers are refusing to pay the annuities unless they have assurance that the tariff war with Britain will be ended and the question of annuities settled by arbitration.

It is anticipated that Mr. De Valera will shortly announce the date upon which his offer to arbitrate with Britain over the question of annuities will be withdrawn.

When that time comes, the annuities would finally be taken over by the Free State Government, it is believed.

Need Of Taxation.

But for the Land Annuities, Mr. De Valera would have the utmost difficulty in raising the £2,000,000 he requires in Emergency Estimates. It would be essential that he should impose fresh taxation on an already complaining country and the annuities appear to offer him an opportunity to escape from a dilemma.

Up to the present, Mr. De Valera has given no intimation from what source he expects to (Continued on Page 7.)

Maurice Leyland Attracts Selectors' Attention.

London, To-day.

Yorkshire and Kent, who are making bold challenges for the Championship, both won decisive victories yesterday after two days' play. Gloucester also won, showing that their revival was consistent.

Magnificent batting by Maurice Leyland in the face of steady bowling by Smith enabled Yorkshire to total 385 against Leicestershire. Leyland's 158 was his second century of the season. He has not this season showed the form that has gained him Test recognition in the past, but he is now showing glimpses of his true batting abilities. He scored 187 (Continued on Page 6.)

$6,000,000 FIRE IN CHICAGO.

4,500 Animals Burned Alive.

BLAZE IN MEAT-PACKING
DISTRICT.

Chicago, To-day.

A terrible fire ravaged the great meat-packing centre in Chicago to-day, as a result of which, a huge packing-plant was destroyed and 4,500 head of hogs and cattle were burned alive.

The conflagration broke out on the south-west side of the city, and swept through two entire blocks before it was finally brought under control.

The damage is estimated at $6,000,000. — Reuter.

MME. TSAI TING-KAI DEPARTS.

To Join Husband
In Fukien.

Madame Tsai Ting-kai, accompanied by her two sons, Shiu Cheong and Shiu Fei, her daughter Shiu Lo, and escorted by Brigadier-General Lau Chim-hung, of the 19th Route Army, left here yesterday to join her husband, General Tsai, in Fukien.

Leaving the Oriental Hotel at 3 p.m., the party boarded the s.s. Tainan, for Amoy.

Among the crowd of well-wishers, were Mr. Chung Wing-kwong, President of the Ling Nam University, and Mr. Lee Kai-wing.

BATTLEFIELD'S MEMORIALS.

Thiepval And Arras Commemorated.

BRITAIN'S MILLION DEAD.

London, Yesterday.

Eighteen years ago to-day, Great Britain went to war. With the unveiling at Thiepval and Arras last week-end of memorials to 100,000 men, who lie in unidentified graves in those two areas alone, was completed the list of battlefields memorials to over 1,000,000 dead British soldiers.

Yet every week, remains of about 20 more are discovered in battle areas of France and Flanders, and are removed to one or other of the 125 war cemeteries extended by the Imperial War Graves Commission. In addition to Britain's 1,000,000 dead, over 2,000,000 men were wounded during the war, and among those still suffering from its effects are 6,000 inmates of special mental hospitals, and 30,000 victims of chronic neurasthenia. — British Wireless Service.

COMMISSION TO STUDY INDIES COMMERCE.

Closer Unity Sought Among Islands.

London, To-day.

The Colonial Secretary Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, has decided to appoint a Commission to examine on the spot the possibilities of a closer union between Trinidad and the Windward Islands and Leeward Islands, or some of them. It is anticipated the Commission will leave England for the West Indies in the Autumn. — British Wireless Service.

LOVELOCK UNPLACED

ITALIAN WINS 1,500
METRES.

CORNES SECOND.

Nambu Breaks World Record.

Mildred Didrickson Registers
Olympic Double.

Los Angeles, To-day.

America failed to secure a victory in the three men's events down for decision yesterday. The honours were internationally divided. Italy, Japan and Finland registering wins while America gained a win in the Women's 80-Metres Hurdles. Beccali, the Italian champion, broke the Olympic record for the 1,500-Metres when he beat J. F. Cornes, the Oxford and British representative, by three yards to clock, 3 mins. 51.1/5 secs. Edwards, the Canadian runner, was third.

JAPANESE SUCCESS.

Nambu, the Japanese Hop, Step and Jump star, broke the world's record in this event by jumping 51 ft. 6 3/4 ins.

Jarvinen (Finland) accomplished what was expected of him when he carried off the Javelin Throw with an Olympic record throw of 238 ft. 6 1/2 ins.

Miss Mildred Didrickson registered the second "double" to be recorded at the Tenth Olympiad when she won for America the Women's 80-Metres Hurdles event in the world record breaking time of 11.7/10 secs. — Reuter.

SENSATIONAL RESULT.

Beccali's triumph in the 1,500-Metres caused a big sensation as little had been heard of him previously.

Loveclock, the New Zealander, who broke the world's Three-Quarter Mile record, was expected to gain a place, but he ran unplaced. Cornes, the British hope, who has beaten Loveclock on more occasions than the latter has triumphed, was beaten by only three yards in Olympic record time. He was considered in English circles to be an almost certain winner, though Americans favoured the chances of Gene Venzke, who ran the mile in 4 mins. 10 secs. recently. The shorter distance at Los Angeles was expected to help him, but like Loveclock he too unaccountably failed.

Nambu's win in the Hop Step and Jump upset the calculations of Mikio Oda who was out to repeat his Amsterdam feat. He had accomplished 57.23 ft. in Olympic Trials.

Miss Didrickson's versatility is amazing. On July 7 at Dallas, Texas, she won the 80-Metres Hurdles in 11.9/10 secs., breaking her own American record of 12 secs. She also won six other events—the discus, the javelin throw, the 100 and the 200 yards, and tied for first place in the High Jump. She has now broken two world records at the Tenth Olympiad at Los Angeles—148 ft. 4 ins. for the Javelin Throw and 11.7/10 secs. for the 80-Metres Hurdles.

CLOTHING THIEF IMPRISONED.

An unemployed coolie, Wong Fuk, was given 8 weeks' hard labour by Mr. Fraser at the Kowloon Court this morning for the theft of clothing valued at $15, said to have been taken from a Star ferry.

According to evidence, the coolie had entered the crew's quarters and stolen everything he could lay his hands on. A quantity of pawn tickets were found on his person when he was arrested.

PARAGUAYAN TROOPS HEAVILY SHELLED

DISPUTING NATIONS
WANT ARBITRATION

BUT RUSH MOBILISATION

LEAGUE OF NATIONS HAS HOPE OF SETTLEMENT.

Buenos Aires, To-day.

Although the League of Nations has announced that it anticipates an arbitration of the dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay, and a peaceful settlement, the fiercest fighting of the brief campaign between the two South American States is reported to-day.

Paraguayan positions in the Pilcomayo sector of the Gran-chaco valley are reported to have been heavily bombarded by artillery. According to a report through Tarija, South Bolivia, emanating from the Commander of the Fourth Division, the fire from enemy guns was intensive and directed against the fortified areas which the Paraguayan troops were occupying. No statement of casualties is given. The region bristles with forts and trench lines of both armies.

Meanwhile it is reported from La Paz, capital of Bolivia, that the Government is prepared to accept the proposals of the neutral nations and listen to arbitration, having suspended hostilities, but only on a basis of maintenance of the positions already occupied by their troops.

On the other hand, Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, reports that nation welcomes the proposal of the neutrals for immediate arbitration. Mobilisation, however, is being rushed to completion. League Congratulated.

Paris, To-day.

Friends of the League of Nations are delighted that the organisation has again vindicated itself by pacific influence, as Paraguay and Bolivia both have agreed to the League request to settle their dispute peacefully. — Reuter.

Capitals Excited.

London, To-day.

British diplomatic representatives in La Paz and Asuncion to-day informed the Bolivian and Paraguayan Governments of Britain's support of the League of Nations' appeal and that of the friendly nations assembled at Washington, urging both Governments to exercise moderation. (Continued on Page 7.)

BRITANNIA BEATS SHAMROCK V.

Time Allowance Decides
The Issue.

WHITE HEATHER AGAIN
THIRD.

Royalty Enjoying Holiday.

London, To-day.

His Majesty the King sailed his fifth race at the Cowes Regatta yesterday and gained his second victory with Britannia in an event for first-class yachts. Britannia won on time allowance, with three minutes to spare from Mr. Sopwith's Shamrock V, with Mr. Stephenson's White Heather third.

Britannia was actually second to Shamrock V by less than 30 seconds, but the time allowance gave the King's cutter the verdict.

His Majesty looks bronzed and extremely well and the Queen, who has motored most days over the Isle of Wight of which she is very fond and has visited many friends there, is also benefiting from her holiday. — British Wireless Service.

On Tuesday the King's cutter was placed second to Mr. Sopwith's Shamrock V in the King's Cup, being only 39 seconds behind the late Sir Thomas Lipton's challenging craft. Mr. Stephenson's White Heather was third in the same event.

In the handicap event for first-class yachts over a forty-mile course on Wednesday the Britannia was placed second to Mr. Paul's Astra with Mr. Stephenson's White Heather third.

BRITISH MOTORING TRIUMPHS.

At International Alpine
Six-Day's Trial.

DEFINITE SUPERIORITY
ALL ROUND.

London, To-day.

British cars driven by British drivers have won an extraordinary series of successes during the International Alpine six-days' motor trial.

In the classes for 2,000 C.C. cars the team of Talbot won the Coupe Des Alpes, and a team of Invictas won the Glacier Cup with the Armstrong Siddeley team second.

Frazernash and Wolseley cars occupied the first three places for cars of 1,100 C.C. to 1,500. Rileys won the Coup Des Alpes for the 500 to 1,100 C.C. type, and Lagondas, Singers and Morris Garage cars also scored successes.

Practically all the leading continental cars were represented in the series of contests. — British Wireless Service.

KREUGER COMPANY BANKRUPTCY.

Federal Court In U.S.
Takes Step.

New York, To-day.

Acting upon the suggestion of the liquidators in Sweden, the Federal Court here decided to adjudicate the Kreuger Toll Company bankrupt in the United States.

Investigation of the condition of the affairs of the vast Kreuger corporation which collapsed with the suicide of the man who built it, is continuing. — Reuter's American Service.

ROUND HONG KONG'S
CINEMA THEATRES*OFFICIAL SOURCES.*"POLLY OF THE CIRCUS."

"Acrobatic cameras" and trapeze microphone booms were devised by Director Alfred Santell for aerial gymnastic shots in "Polly of the Circus," Marion Davies' new starring vehicle, which will open on Sunday at the Queen's Theatre.

To photograph and record the spectacular action and dialogue taking place ninety feet above the ground on flying trapezes, Santell mounted cameras on swinging platforms that operated in synchronization with the acrobatic equipment used by the dare-devil performers. Microphones were attached to the trapeze bars.

The Condona Brothers, world-famous aerialists, executed their sensational triple-loop acrobatics in mid-air. It was with this act that Miss Davies appeared in the opening and closing sequences of the picture, Guinn (Big Boy) Williams and Clark Marshall impersonating the noted gymnasts in the acting sequences.

Clark Gable plays opposite Miss Davies as the modern minister who falls in love with the hoydenish circus performer when she is brought to his home following a trapeze accident.

Included in the cast are C. Aubrey Smith, Raymond Hatton, David Landau, Ruth Selwyn, Maude Eburne, Little Billy, Ray Milland and Lillian Elliott.

"RESERVED FOR LADIES."

Movie fans have an opportunity to see how a big hotel is run, in Paramount's "Reserved for Ladies," in which Leslie Howard plays the leading role, and which is the King's Theatre's feature picture beginning Sunday next.

In this picture will be seen faithful replicas of the kitchens and service stations to be found in the most efficient hotels. The picture also demonstrates many of the efficiently guarded secrets of an efficient head waiter, and the art of "dressing" a fashionable restaurant, an art that ensures that the right people are placed where they will be seen, the wrong people where they will not be seen, and divorced people where they will be seen, and divorced people where they will not be annoyingly near each other, and that everyone is happy while dining.

Leslie Howard enacts the part of the highly efficient head waiter of one of the world's most aristocratic eating places for the wealthy and socially prominent. He demonstrates the suavity and efficiency of popular maitres d'hotel and shows why it is, they command such fabulous salaries.

"THE WORLD AND THE FLESH."

"The World and the Flesh" which is showing at the Oriental Theatre is romance in a world gone mad. A mighty love story of the carmine days of 1917 when Russia's servants became the masters drunk with power!

Here is a tense, vigorous background that is perfect for George Bancroft's dynamic personality and Miriam Hopkins' pulse-quicken beauty. It adds colour and excitement to a story that is punch-packed from the start!

"The World and the Flesh" is excitingly sensational material. The type of authentic adventure-romance that made "Shanghai Express" the record-smasher that it is. The type of story that audiences go for in a big way, from New York Broadway to Main Street's midway!

"THE FLOOD."

Eleanor Boardman the youthful star of Columbia Pictures' latest spectacular feature, "The Flood" which comes to the Central Theatre to-day, is straightforward, direct and sincere. She has genuine acting talent and wistful beauty. Her widely spaced gray eyes, her broad forehead and regular features are set in an oval of shining brown hair.

"There was a lot of hard work in making 'The Flood,' she smiled, "but at the same time it was mighty interesting. We worked in icy, cold water and driving to get the actual flood scenes shown in the picture. Ask Monte Blue. He swears that he doesn't feel completely dry yet. But I was simply wild about my part. I felt I was really living the life of a small town girl who is driven from home by unnecessary and malicious scandal."

Eleanor Boardman was an interior decorator in New York, an artist, and then received nationwide acclaim as the Eastman Kodak girl. She received many screen offers and made her first appearance in "Souls For Sale." After many screen successes she was engaged by Columbia to play the feminine lead in "The Flood."

City.

Shanghai, July 31.
With a view to curbing the labour unrest which has prevailed in Shanghai since the Sino-Japanese hostilities, the Greater Shanghai Municipal Bureau of Public Safety and of Social Affairs have jointly issued an order strictly prohibiting the declaration of any strike or walkout.

The order points out that as martial law has not yet been lifted, special authorization must be obtained from the competent authorities for the holding of any meeting or the formation of any organization. Meetings aiming at the declaration of a strike are especially likely to cause disturbance of public order and peace, and must therefore be strictly prohibited.—Kuo Min.

Round The Greens By "Straight Wood"

Another blank Saturday last week and persistent forecasts that there will be no bowls to-morrow. I feel more confident, however, of my prophecies in the bowls sphere, and I will leave the weather to take care of itself and content myself with an endeavour to pick the winners of to-morrow matches.

In this category I feel sure we shall once more find Graingower in winning vein when they entertain Talkoo, though the latter are quite capable of springing a surprise.

The closest match of the division would appear to be that between Kowloon Dock and the Police on the former's green. Their match earlier in the season concluded in the narrowest possible win for the Dock team, but I think that on their own green the latter should be able to retain the points quite comfortably.

Civil Servants Favoured.

A very good game should also be seen between the prospective runners-up and last year's Champions, which will be played on the Kowloon Cricket Club's ground. The Civil Service team—also of the cricketing fraternity—won by 13 shots the last time they met and, although their hosts would very much like to retain the points, I think the visitors will win.

The Kowloon Bowling Green Club are down to entertain the Club de Recreo and the indications are that, on present form, the Portuguese team should win. They accomplished this by a matter of 3 shots in their last encounter, and have been playing well ever since—a remark which cannot be applied to the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, who are having a very bad season. On paper they appear to have a very useful and experienced combination, but so far they have won only one match this season.

The Junior Teams.

In the Second Division, three junior teams will be endeavouring to give their Club's "doubles," and the most interesting match will be that between the Civil Service juniors and the Kowloon Cricket Club which is being played at Kowloon. The home team have improved considerably since they lost at the Valley in June, and I am confident of their ability to pull it off this time.

Craigengower should have no difficulty in beating Talkoo, in spite of the fact of the match being at Quarry

Bay, and I think that the Bowling Green-seconds will share with them the distinction of winning on foreign soil. They won by a margin of 24 shots when they played the Club de Recreo at home, and I look to them to bring off their double even if the balance in their favour is smaller.

The Yacht Club will be anxious to avenge their defeat earlier in the season at the hands of the Hong Kong Electric Club, and should accomplish this quite easily on present form. The match will be played on the Yacht Club green and is in the nature of a local "Derby."

OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP.

There have been no sensations since my last notes appeared, although I hardly expected Ozorio to eliminate L. de Rome as he did on Wednesday evening. I was looking forward to seeing the Hollanders match, which unfortunately has been postponed.

The competition is not reaching a very interesting stage, and the remaining matches should all be productive of good bowls.

MY WEEKLY RULE.

Rule 13. 1. A bowl which does not touch the jack in its original course on the green, and runs against the bank or into the ditch, or is driven into the ditch by the effects of the play, is called a ditcher, and shall be immediately removed to the bank by the side to which it belongs.

2. Should a ditcher in any circumstances return to the green it must be placed on the bank.

This is a rule which is frequently broken locally, although the consequences are rarely of much importance. But it should be noted that the bowls must be immediately removed, not left until the jack or toucher is approaching it, when usually a scramble to get the ditcher away ensues.

It was a mere coincidence that my note on banks should appear an hour or two before the meeting of the Association last Friday. I am pleased that official action is to be taken and hope that games will in future be played in accordance with the rules, and not as the respective skips may decide before the match.

NINE TEAMS COMPETING FOR DR. WU'S CUP.

In spite of the heavy rain which fell yesterday the Chinese Summer Football Tourney was officially opened at Caroline Hill when the Soong Ching eleven gained a convincing victory over the Electric Company team by six goals to nil.

The official opening should have taken place last Saturday when Dr. Wu, the donor of the silver trophy for which nine teams are competing, was to have kicked off in the game between the Electric Co., and Ching Wu. The other match which should have been played was between Ching Ning and Soong Ching.

The following nine teams are competing in this year's tournament, which is organised by the Chung Wah Athletic Association: Ching Ning, Soong Ching, Electric Co., Ching Wu, Hong Kong Hotel, Mui Dui, Fui Shing, Sam Kwong and Kwok Wah.

A WHOLE WEEK'S NEWSPAPERS IN ONE.

While hiking alone, in the hills between Fanling and Sha Tau Kok, near Plover Bay, an alarming experience befell Warrant Officer C. B. Wanstall, of the Supplies and Transport Office, Victoria Barracks, on bank holiday, August 1. He slipped on a wet rock and stunned himself, and narrowly escaped drowning in the bed of a small river, which owing to recent rains, was in full flood. Had he fallen right into the stream, the force of the water would have washed him over the brink of the waterfall on to the rocks about 100 feet below. A full story of the exciting adventure is given in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

Eight Chinese were killed, including four children, and seven others were seriously injured in a fire which swept at merciless speed through the crowded living quarters of two attached dwellings, 129 and 131 Pei Ho Street, Sham Shui Po district, in the early hours of July 31. Some of the forty occupants of the two dwellings who were too late to escape down the narrow staircase saved their lives by jumping into a canvas sheet. A full report of the outbreak is contained in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

Unofficial members of the Sanitary Board are unanimous in their condemnation of certain phases of the recommendations for reform in the administration of this branch of the Colony Government, put forward at the last meeting of the Board by the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services (Hon. Dr. A. Robertes Wellington). At the meeting of the Sanitary Board held on August 2, all unofficial members voted in favour of Mr. C. Champkin's motion of opposition, while the official members refrained from voting. The meeting is fully reported in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

General Tsai Ting-kai, a national hero in China since the Shanghai fighting, has appeared as political saviour in Fukien, driven the bandits, who infested the region, into remote parts, unsent an unpopular Governor and lifted the burden of the taxes under which the province suffered.

The rapid changes in the internal affairs of Fukien were carried out without great difficulty. Now, the authorities are planning to form their Air Force for National Defence, with $500,000 in hand, with which to purchase 11 fighting planes. A story is given in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

LIU CHANG-TSENG ROYALLY RECEIVED AT LOS ANGELES

FRANCE WINS WEIGHT LIFTING TITLE

AUSTRIA AND DENMARK TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

GABETTI'S "DOUBLE"

CHINA'S REPRESENTATIVE ROYALLY RECEIVED AT LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles, July 30.

One hundred and five thousand cheering fans packed the huge Olympic Bowl to its very rim to-day to witness the spectacle of the opening of the Xth modern Olympiad.

Two thousand of the world's finest athletes, many of them in individualistic costumes, gathered in the stadium for a renewal of the ancient Grecian games on a scale far more pretentious than the ancient Kings of Sparta, Elis and Pisa, or the Roman Emperors thereafter, ever dreamed of.

Indians with turban-clad heads, the Irish in their green coats, Hungarians in red blazers and not last or least the Filipinos in soft white hats, blue jackets and white trousers, were there to receive the plaudits of the onlookers.

Long before the appointed hour of the opening at 2:30 p.m. the Bowl was filled to overflowing as the athletes of many nations prepared for the grand march. Finally the parade started.

Following the athletes of ancient Greece came the Argentinians, the Australians with green coats, white trousers and straw hats, the Belgians and others, marching in perfect order.

Most of the athletes wore blue coats and white trousers.

The places in the parade were assigned to the countries alphabetically.

FINNISH ATHLETES CHEERED.

When the sturdy performers from far-away Finland, whose 3,500,000 population turned out a track and field team in the last Olympic games second only to that of the United States with its 120,000,000, passed the stands the crowds gave them a tremendous ovation.

Then came the Hungarians in their red blazers and the colourful Indians.

The precise marching of the large Japanese contingent was nearly perfect formation.

Likewise the one-man team from China received his share.

All of the flags were cheered, but with the exception of the Stars and Stripes, Finland received the biggest hand. This was because the crowds wanted to express sympathy over the fact the Paavo Nurmi, famed distance runner, was disqualified by the International American Athletic Federation.

FOURTEEN-WORD SPEECH

The parade was brought to a climax when the American flag dipped in salute before the presidential box, where Vice President Charles Curtis officially represented his absent Chief.

Then the world's fleetest and strongest stood in line and heard Curtis deliver the shortest speech of his career, a 14-word address officially declaring the Xth Olympiad open.

The participants repeated the Olympic oath of good sportsmanship.

The long slopes of humanity which reached from the field high into the sky on every hand likewise were colourful.

Japanese umbrellas were everywhere to be seen.

In the stands were many famed Olympians of former days.

Paavo Nurmi, probably the greatest long distance runner of all time, was there, a disappointed but game individual.

Duke Kahanamoku, the human fish from Hawaii, his black locks already streaked with gray, was there.

Many in the stands were members of past American Olympic teams.

The opening exercises were all parade and involved no performance.

WEIGHT LIFTING RECORD.

The first actual competition of the Olympiad began in the evening at the Olympic Auditorium, huge downtown hall seating more than 10,000 persons. In the weight lifting events, where an auspicious Olympiad was forecast by the scattering of a record.

DuVerger of France, in the lightweight class, won the two-arm military press event with a new record of 214½ pounds, recording a lift 715 pounds in three events.

Hans of Austria was second and Pirelli, of Italy, third.

Gabetti of Italy won the two-arm snatch with a lift of 209 pounds. He also took the two-arm clean and jerk with a weight of 264 pounds.

Hosten of France was winner in the light-heavyweight lifts, boasting a total of 803 pounds. Olsen of Denmark was second and Ducey of the United States third.

Hosten won the two-arm clean and jerk with a lift of 339 pounds. Olsen took the two-arm military press with a weight of 225 pounds, and the two-arm snatch with a weight of 256½ pounds.

Hosten's aggregate constituted an Olympic record.

The International Weight Lifting Federation scored the following points: France, 6; Austria, 2; Denmark, 2; United States, 1; Italy, 1.

The first track and field events will be held to-morrow in the main stadium, including the high jump finals, in which Simeon Toribio of the Philippines, Far Eastern Olympic record holder, is entered.

There also will be the shot put finals, ladies javelin finals, 10,000 meter run finals, and trial heats in the 100 meters, 800 meters and 400 meter hurdles.

The weight lifting events will continue to-morrow and will be concluded to-morrow night, while the opening events in the fencing will be held in the afternoon.

LOUISA ROBERTS ABSENTEE.

The American women's swimming team were disheartened when Louisa Roberts was operated on for appendicitis, and hence cannot compete.

Dink Templeton, coach of the famed Stanford University track and field team, arrived in Los Angeles via aeroplane in a stretcher to watch some of his fleet and agile performers. He is bedridden with arthritis.

Lui Chun, lone Chinese entrant, arrived in Los Angeles with his coach, Poo Song.

A motorcycle police escort and five automobiles filled with his countrymen conducted him to the Olympic village where he was assigned to a cottage by himself, over which was hoisted the Chinese flag.

New Zealand Cricketer to Play For Blackburn.

London, July 26. The New Zealand cricketer I. B. Crob, who has remained in England since the tour last season, is playing for Blackburn next year.

Crob scored 448 runs (average 16 per innings) for the New Zealanders in their 1931 tour and took 55 wickets at a cost of 26.29 runs each.

HOLLAND RECORDS FIRST WIN.

Van Egmond Wins The 1,000 Metres Cycling.

OLYMPIC GAMES.

Los Angeles, Yesterday. Van Egmond gave Holland her first victory in the Olympic Games here to-day when he won the 1,000-Metres Cycling event. He won both his heats comfortably and beat Chalhot (France) in a thrilling final. At Amsterdam in 1928 Holland had to be content with second place to France, but this year the tables have been turned. Beaufrand (France) beat Magairic (Holland) at Amsterdam.

MAMAK HOCKEY TOURNEY.

Annual General Meeting To-day.

The annual general meeting of the committee and members of the Mamak Hockey Tournament will be held this afternoon at 5:30 p.m. in Messrs. Jardine, Matheson's board-room.

Any clubs or teams not already members of this league are invited to send two representatives, with full yoting powers, to the meeting. The business will include the election of office-bearers for the season 1932-33.

YOUNG STRIBLING TRIUMPHS

Knocks Out Dominion's Champion.

Sydney, July 4.

Young Stribling, the American boxer, scored a technical knockout in the tenth round over Ambrose Palmer, the Australian, to-day.

The fight was scheduled to go fifteen rounds, but Stribling outclassed his opponent and administered such punishment that the referee intervened.

Palmer was the Dominion's champion, holder of the Beauchamp belt.

HARVARD'S ATHLETIC RECORD FOR 1931-32.

The Crimson Shades Yale in Final Record

Harvard University's athletic record for the 1931-32 season recently completed finds the Crimson victorious 197 times, defeated 96 times and tied 13 times against all opponents in 306 contests, including varsity and freshman competition.

Against the Eli, Harvard won 10, lost 7 and tied one in varsity competition, but all told the Crimson shaded Yale with a total of 23 victories, 16 defeats and one tie.

GUN CLUB HILL CLUB TENNIS TOURNEY.

Convincing Win For Mixed Doubles Pair.

AGAINST MEN'S PAIR.

Mr. Pratt and Mrs. Wardle won a meritorious victory in the Final of the Gun Club Hill Tennis Club tournament at the "At Home" on Wednesday. They defeated Messrs. Bryant and Harbour 6-3 after asserting a definite superiority.

As far as possible mixed doubles were played, but owing to a shortage of ladies only one lady was left in after the fifth round. Partners for the next round were drawn for after each successive round had been played and players were handicapped according to their merits.

At the conclusion of the tournament small mementoes of the occasion were presented to the finalists by the Club President.

The Semi-final and final results were as follows:

Semi-final.
Mr. Pratt and Mr. Harbour, beat Mr. Warman and Mr. De La Haye 5-4
Mr. Bryant and Mrs. Wardle, beat Mr. Foreman and Mr. Meyers 6-3 Final.
Mr. Pratt and Mrs. Wardle, beat Mr. Bryant and Mr. Harbour 6-3

COLONY BOWLS TEAM TO BE SELECTED.

L.B.A. Committee Meeting To-night.

W. MAIR STANDS DOWN.

The Committee of the Lawn Bowls Association will meet this evening to select the Hong Kong Interport Bowls team which will visit Shanghai next month.

The following ten players who are able to make the trip if selected are as follows:—R. S. Nichol (K.B.G.C.), J. C. Brown (K.D.R.C.), W. H. B. Muskett (E.R.C.), U. M. Omar (C.C.C.), B. W. Bradbury (C.C.C.), G. L. Buchanan (C.C.C.), L. A. Gutierrez (Recreio), G. Moss (Police), H. Hampton (K.C.C.), and E. W. Summonds (C.S.C.C.).

W. Mair (Police) sent in his name as being available, if required, but has since found out that it will be impossible for him to make the trip. Another blow to Hong Kong's chance! "Straight Wood" in the Sunday Herald considered him well worthy of a place.

Hong Kong's chances this year for the custody of the Prentice Cup are not very bright owing to the fact that Adam Holland and R. F. Luz will not be available and A. E. Silkstone, the K.C.C. skip, is at present on home leave. Only once before—in 1928—has a Hong Kong rink won on Shanghai soil and the local team on that occasion was J. Laing, A. W. Grimmit, J. C. Brown and Adam Holland.

J. C. Brown's experience on that occasion should stand him in good stead, should he be selected to play this year, while U. M. Omar's four interports should give him a very firm foundation. Muskett has been up to Shanghai with a bowls team in the past, but only in the capacity of a reserve.

The team will play the series of three matches against Shanghai between September 10 and 18, and will be accompanied by Mr. A. O. Brown, the President of the Lawn Bowls Association, who is travelling as team manager much to the delight of all followers of the game.

STELLA WALSH TRUE TO POLAND

REFUSES U.S. CITIZENSHIP FOR TENTH OLYMPIAD

BIG BLOW TO AMERICA

WIN FIRST OLYMPIC TITLE IN WORLD RECORD TIME.

Cleveland, July 8.

Miss Stella Walsh, 21-year-old world's women sprint champion, to-day declined the citizenship papers that would have made her eligible to race for the United States in next month's Olympic Games.

She was undecided whether to represent her native Poland, but refused to take the oath of allegiance at a naturalization hearing. She appeared in Federal Court exhibiting a cablegram written in Polish which she said contained "information that may affect my whole future life." Beyond that, she declined to reveal what the message said.

She will have one more opportunity to change her mind next Wednesday when a hearing will be held for special cases. Rumours that she would race for Poland instead for the United States have been spread since she was indefinitely furloughed by the New York Central Railroad, for whom she was filing clerk. Her department was discontinued.

Her trainer, Dan Griffin, pleaded with her to take her final citizenship papers, but she was adamant. She had planned to enter the 400-meter relay, 100-meter dash, 80-meter hurdles, javelin and discus throws and was regarded a certain point winner in all these events. She holds the world's records for women in the 60, 100 and 200-meter dashes, and has set seven American and four Canadian sprint records.

[Stella Walsh won the 110-Metres at Los Angeles on Tuesday, thus registering her first Olympic win. She achieved even more than that. By clocking 11.9/10 secs. she broke the existing world record—and she was running under Polish colours! At Amsterdam in 1928 Miss Robinson (U.S.A.) won in 12.1/5 secs. which then created a world record.]

STORMY SCENES AT THE ARSENAL MEETING.

SIR HENRY NORRIS AND THE DIRECTORS.

London, July 5.

Heated arguments and a free exchange of personalities marked the annual meeting of the Arsenal Football Club, held at the Holborn Restaurant last night.

Proceedings began on a normal note with the statement of the chairman, Sir Samuel Hill-Wood, who reviewed the club's successful season, both from a playing and financial point of view. The profit on the year, he said was £3,160. Gate receipts, excluding entertainments tax, totalled £68,182, and the attendances at the Highbury ground during the season numbered 1,215,338.

Mr. J. J. Edwards, vice-chairman of the club, in seconding the adoption of the accounts, criticised Sir Henry Norris, the former chairman, and those who had signed the requisition for an extraordinary general meeting of the company.

At once there were shouts of "Point of order," and for several minutes the meeting was in a state of turmoil.

Order was restored when Sir Henry Norris rose to speak. "You have heard a most extraordinary speech from the vice-chairman of this club," he said. He proceeded to protest against a printed statement which had been circulated to members of the meeting.

Sir Samuel Hill-Wood: I know nothing at all about it.

Sir Henry Norris next raised the point of attendances at directors' meetings.

Sir Samuel Hill-Wood: We have a record of attendances at directors' meetings but I decline to disclose it.

On the chairman's proposal the Earl of Westmorland was elected a director of the club.

Mr. G. F. Allison proposed the re-election of Sir Samuel Hill-Wood and Mr. J. J. Edwards, the retiring directors, and the vote was carried amid another stormy scene.

It does not need any second look at my face to prove that I am no dance hall idol. My cauliflower ears I got through taking punches there that were meant for my jaw, but the fellows who landed those punches paid dearly for them. My climb to the world's championship has been no path of roses. I have met the toughest there are in the business and have come through on top because I stood a strike better than they did. —Maurice Hill.

The Misfortunes Of The Irish Free State.

At a time when the Empire's leaders are endeavouring to consolidate the British Commonwealth of Nations and wield the Empire into a strong economic group, the Irish dispute threatens the harmony
pervading the Ottawa Conference.
The latest developments have intensified the gravity of the situation and the possibility of the defection of the Irish Free State from the Commonwealth disturbs the equanimity at Ottawa. The Free State delegates to the Conference have been tactful, but their embarrassment is apparent. Their presence is almost ridiculous in view of the tariff war now proceeding between Britain and the Free State, and not until there is a settlement will they be able to participate on the status of the representatives of the other Dominions.

A settlement is out of the question until De Valera is brought to reason, or is forced out of office, the latter condition being the more probable. Already there are signs of growing discontent among the business and agricultural sections of the Free State and the reaction among the farmers, particularly, bodes ill for the presumptuous and foolhardy Republican leader. Then too, De Valera is in a minority in the Dail and even though the small Labour group (holding the balance of power) have been paid the price for their support, the Government is by no means secure. The Republicans include the worst elements in Ireland and secured most of their votes at the last election from the more ignorant classes. The great mass of the people in the agricultural districts are amazingly ignorant of current affairs and are easily deluded by the fiery outbursts of the Republicans who conjure imagined wrongs and injustices at the hands of Britain. The dissension ment will end, however, when the people find the country being plunged into economic ruin. The farmers are being placed in a desperate plight through the tariff war, which shuts out the English market which formerly absorbed about 90 per cent. of the Irish primary products. From his latest utterances it appears that De Valera is aiming at the establishment of an Irish Republic, and it is using the threat of Irish influence in the United States as a 'big stick' in the negotiations with Britain. In this he not only under-estimates the intelligence of the Irish-American but also ignores the fact that the majority of Irishmen intend to remain loyal to the Crown. Also, realization is growing in the Free State that De Valera is prepared to sacrifice Ireland for his own selfish vanity. The remedy is clear. De Valera will have to be ejected from office. Unfortunately any such move requires time and in the interim the country will suffer for the folly of a politician who is not even an Irishman.

YORKSHIRE AND KENT BOTH WIN.

for England at Melbourne in the 1928-29 Test series in his Test debut.

Bowes (9 for 62) was in irreastable form and Leicester were dismissed twice for 295.
Since his selection to tour Australia Leslie Ames, the Kent stump-er, collected two centuries. On Wednesday he hit up 130 to lay the foundations for the Kent total of 370. Glamorgan could do no better than score 207 runs in two innings against the bowling of "Toby" Freeman. The little man took 13 wickets for 84 runs and is now well on the way for his 200 wickets in a season.

The Gloucester revival, which commenced on Saturday with their meritorious victory over Kent, was continued to-day when B. H. Lyon's men inflicted a big defeat on Middlesex, strong southern challengers for the championship.

Goddard was in magnificent form with the ball, claiming 7 wickets for 19 runs in the Middlesex second innings. Simfield claimed 122 of Gloucester's total of 384, which runs on the first innings. Then gave the home county a lead of 157
Goddard in an inspired spell dismissing Middlesex for 68. This is the second match running that Middlesex has collapsed badly, Tate dismissing the metropolitan side and Hove for 238 in the two innings.

despatches.

Railway traffic on the Tungliao-Tahushan Line has been suspended since Wednesday.
Volunteers are also reported to be extremely active in the vicinity of Mukden.—Reuter.

Delay In Reservoir Project Deplored

Sir Henry Pollock's Sharp Criticism

AIR MAIL QUESTIONS

GOVERNMENT'S POLICIES ARE ANNOUNCED.

At yesterday's meeting of the Legislative Council, the Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, K.C., Senior Unofficial Member, on behalf of the Unofficial Members, expressed disappointment with the delay in the programme of work on the Shing Mun Valley Scheme (Second Section) planned by Government for the remainder of the year.

Deplored the delay in the beginning of the preliminary stages of the work, Sir Henry declared that the sum of $75,000 to be voted for the extensive work was too trivial. He pointed out the necessity of doing as much work as was possible during the coming dry season.

Replying, the Colonial Secretary
(Hon. Mr. E. R. Hallifax, C.M.G., C.B.E.) stated the Consulting Engineers had hopes of the arrival of the special engineer by October.
Meanwhile, they were being pressed to proceed with the work.

The Air Mails.
During the meeting, Mr. W. E.
L. Shenton asked:—

1.—Will Government inform this Council of Government's policy in reference to an air mail service—

(a) Between Hong Kong and French Indo-China.
(b) Between Hong Kong and Canton, and
(c) Between Hong Kong and Shanghai?

2.—Has Government ascertained whether the French Government and Chinese Government are prepared to co-operate in such enterprises, and if so on what terms?
3.—Is Government prepared to financially assist private enterprise in any or all of the above air lines?

The answer given by the Colonial Secretary were as follow:—

1. While the Government is not prepared to institute Air Mail services, it remains ready to accord sympathetic consideration to any practical proposals that may be put forward. In the absence of concrete proposals, the policy cannot be more closely defined.

2. The French authorities propose to carry out experimental flights between Hanoi and Hong Kong and it is possible that proposals will be put forward in the light of the results obtained.

No information is available regarding the attitude of the Chinese Government.

3. No undertaking can be given but the sympathetic consideration referred to in the first paragraph of this reply contemplates the grant of financial assistance if an application meets with approval.

Work To Cost $9,200,000.

The Hon. E. R. Hallifax, C.M.G., C.B.E., moved (a) That this Council approves the construction of the works connected with the Shing
Mun Valley Water Supply Scheme, 2nd Section, at an estimated cost of $9,200,000. (b) That this Council authorizes the sum of $75,000 out of the said sum of $9,200,000 to be charged to a future loan and sanctions an advance of this sum of $75,000 during the financial year

1932 from the surplus balances of the Colony.

The Motion Carried.
Introducing a motion for the abolition of the principle of the rider-main system, the Colonial Secretary said that the Government's desire was to eliminate waste.

On the request of the Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, the matter was adjourned to enable the unofficial members to consider it.

A supplementary sum of $1,818,307.73 to defray the charges of the year 1931, was read for the first time at yesterday's meeting, over which H.E. the Officer Administering the Government (Hon.
Mr. W. T. Southern, C.M.G.) presided. The Colonial Treasurer
(Hon. Mr. Edwin Taylor) in introducing the supplementary vote, gave an interesting review of the Colony's financial position.

The Hon. Mr. Taylor stated that the Colony finished the year in a much more favourable position than could have been hoped for at the beginning of the year, although the actual expenditure was in excess of the revised estimate. He had every hope that the 1932 Budget would be balanced, provided the exchange was maintained around 1s. 3d. and conditions remained normal.

The approximate expenditure to June 30 was $16,892,000 which was $2,098,830 below one half of the estimated expenditure of $34,981, 661 for the year. The under-expenditure, he explained, was principally due to the rise in the dollar.

New Ordinances.

The first reading of an Ordinance to amend the Foreshore and Sea Bed Ordinance, 1901, an Ordinance to amend and consolidate the law relating to Factories and Workshops, and to the employment of women, Young Persons and Children in certain industries, and an Ordinance to make provision for fixing the minimum wages where the wages paid are unreasonably low, were read by the Attorney General (Hon. Mr. C. G.
Alabaster, K.C.).

The Attorney General moved:—
That the amendment to By-laws made by the Sanitary Board under section 16 of the Public Health and Buildings Ordinance, 1903, on the 5th day of July, 1932, relating to Prevention of mitigation of epidemic, endemic, contagious or infectious disease, be approved.

He said:—"Such a declaration has been made in connection with the cholera epidemic and appeared in the Gazette on June 24. On July 6 the Sanitary Board added two additional paragraphs to the by-law and these paragraphs require the approval of the Legislative Council."

The Colonial Secretary seconded, and the resolution was approved.

JAPANESE STEWARD MURDERED.

Suspect Is Missing From Vessel.

Mitsura Kojima, a steward, was found murdered aboard s.s. Hakone Maru one day out of Colombo. It was learned on the vessel's arrival here.

Another steward, Shojire Kojima, no relation to the deceased, is missing. It is thought he jumped overboard to evade capture.

The murdered man was found in a third class cabin with a wound at the back of his neck, apparently caused by a sharp instrument.

CHINESE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Annual Meeting Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, was held yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wong Kwong-tin presided.

The accounts for 1931 were passed.

An extraordinary meeting called for the confirmation of the revised regulations of the Chamber followed the annual meeting, and the members expressed their approval of an increase in the membership fees and of the terms governing the annual election procedure.

CHINA DECIDES ON BLOCKADE.

Reprisals Against Manchukuo.

JAPANESE TO BE OUSTED.

Shanghai, Yesterday. The Chinese newspapers announce that owing to the seizure by the Manchukuo Government of the Maritime Customs, it has been found necessary to introduce a re-trenchment scheme.

All Japanese officials in the Maritime Customs service all over the country, with the exception of a few special cases, will be dismissed in view of the financial stringency. —Reuter.

Nanking's Decision.

It was officially announced recently that the Manchurian Customs blockade was decided upon. The order for the blockade is expected to be issued shortly.

Mr. Wang Ching-wei, the President of the Executive Yuan, summoned a special meeting of the Executive Yuan to pass Mr. T. V. Soong's recommended blockade of the Maritime Customs in Manchuria. Meanwhile the Government is waiting replies from the Powers concerning the blockade.

The Ministry of Communications has sent circulars to its telegraphic administration in Shanghai requesting it not to remit messages to Manchukuo because of the Manchukuo authorities' unwillingness to remit the Manchurian receipts to Nanking.

FEARS FELT FOR TRAVELLERS.

Disappeared While In Shensi Country.

Peiping, Yesterday. Anxiety is felt for the fate of an American, Henry Ekvall, a Swede, Gustav Tornvall and an unnamed Japanese who are reported to have disappeared in Shensi on July 23.

They were last seen motoring from Kansu, 20 miles from Sianfu. —Reuter.

LORD LYTTON BACK AT LABOURS.

Leaves Hospital For Meeting.

Peiping, Yesterday. Despite the heat wave Lord Lytton left hospital for the first time since his illness this morning to attend a two-hour meeting of the Commission at the Peking Hotel.

He then returned to hospital where he will continue to stay as a patient. —Reuter.

INDIA'S DEMANDS FOR REFORM.

Ask Anti-Terrorist Laws Abolition.

Poona, Yesterday. A mass meeting led by Legislative Assembly members and also prominent ex-members and politicians of many different creeds, has carried a resolution demanding the simultaneous withdrawal of anti-terrorist ordinances by the government and the civil disobedience campaign by the National Congress, and also the re-establishment of the Round Table Conference to resume co-operative methods of discussing India's future constitution. —Reuter.

NANKING FACES DROUGHT.

Pessimistic Outlook In North.

Nanking, Yesterday. The capital is facing the worst period of drought it has experienced for many decades, conditions being so bad that many of the wells and ponds were dried up, making the water shortage an acute problem.

The Weather Bureau holds out little hope, but pessimistically predicts still hotter weather without rain.

The superstitious inhabitants of the city are organising fantastic costume parades and dragon dances and are swarming to the temples to pray for rain. —Reuter.

Girls' Pluck Aids In Fire Fight

Spectacular Blaze In London

HUGE FORCE ENGAGED

London, July 31. One of the most spectacular and destructive daylight fires, which has occurred in Central London for some years burnt out two large warehouses belonging to Messrs. Falk, Stadelman and Co. Ltd., at the back of their head offices in Farringdon-road last month. Thousands of pounds' worth of electrical, gas, and oil house fittings were destroyed.

The outbreak, which was in one of the City's danger zones, would have had more serious effects but for the prompt action of the hand-ful of employees on the premises, for it was the lunch hour when the fire broke out. Normally about 600 persons, mostly girls, are employed in the building.

One girl rallied some of her colleagues and closed the fireproof doors which divide the building into two parts. They did not leave until each door had been securely fastened.

Column of Smoke.

About forty girls were in the building at the time. They marched out without fuss, and the fire-fighting staff of the firm were playing their hoses on the flames when the fire brigade arrived.

The warehouses, one of five storeys, and the other of six contained much highly inflammable material, including many tons of straw and packing cases. Within ten minutes the flames had burst through the roof.

Thick yellow smoke belched from every window and formed a great column hundreds of feet high, a majestic spectacle in the bright sunlight, visible from all parts of the City.

Forty fire engines and appliances, and more than 300 firemen, following the circulation of a bridge call, fought the flames from Onslow-street and Castle-street, the two narrow adjoining thoroughfares, and from the roofs and windows of adjoining buildings. Three water-towers and more than 50 hoses were quickly in action.

The adjoining warehouse, with entrances from Great Saffron-hill, was entered by the firemen, who burst open the red-hot iron safety doors, which had been closed at the first alarm, and worked on the fire from close quarters despite the tremendous heat.

Fireman Overcome.

Three members of the Salvage Corps, who were trapped by the fire, were also rescued by firemen. One fireman, overcome by the fumes, was taken to hospital, but recovered under treatment.

Thousands of people watched the fire from Farringdon Road and neighbouring streets, and mounted and foot police had to work hard to keep them back.

Fifty boys who were about to sit for an examination on the top floor of Smithfield Meat Trades Institute, close by the burning building, were ordered to go to the playground. There, with crowds of excited spectators all round them, they played ball games with the utmost unconcern.

Many people in the watching crowds more than 100 yards away, were unable to bear the effects of the thick smoke which eddied along the narrow streets surrounding the burning warehouses, and they were forced to move further off.

Streets Flooded.

Late in the afternoon the water-towers, which had been withdrawn, had to be brought back into action, as persistent were the flames. Several streets in the neighbourhood were flooded to the depth of a foot by the volume of water poured on the burning buildings, and show-rooms and offices in the firm's main buildings were seriously damaged by water.

Paint work on buildings within a hundred yards of the fire was blistered, and many windows were cracked by the intense heat. Warnings against the possible collapse of adjacent buildings were posted in the streets.

The fire was well under control by five o'clock, but it was feared that it would continue all night in the basement, where large quantities of glass fittings, wrapped in grease paper and straw, were packed in rows of cases more than half a mile long.

Traffic Held Up.

Traffic along Farringdon Road was stopped by the fire for about two hours, and then for a considerable time only trams and omnibuses were allowed to use the road. A director of Messrs. Falk Stadelman informed a representative of the press that the burnt warehouses contained only miscellaneous "working" stocks, and that there would be no delay in dealing with orders, which would be supplied from stocks held at other warehouses. London customers, with outstanding orders would be circularised and asked to repeat their orders as some order books had been lost.

This is the second big fire at the firm's premises in the last few years. The present premises are on the site of a building at the corner of Farringdon Road and Clerkenwell Road, which was destroyed during the war by two bombs from raiding German aeroplanes.

There is no question of pride or wounded feelings on our part. It is a question of common sense. Talk without some prospect of finality is futile. Mr. De Valera offers no finality.

Sooner or later, with much loss and suffering, the two countries would have to reconcile their fiscal differences. Why could Mr. De Valera not recognise that at once, Sir Thomas asked. There was, however, one bright omen. The Irish Free State delegates at Ottawa had given no countenance to the idea they did not recognise their allegiance to the Crown. If they could impart the spirit of Ottawa to their colleagues, the peaceful and profitable relations between Britain and Ireland would soon be restored, he believed.

Sir Thomas Inskip, Attorney-General, made a spirited attempt to impart a better atmosphere to the Anglo-Irish controversy last night and emphasised that the British Government still is ready to submit the Land Annuities dispute to arbitration by an Imperial tribunal.

"There is no question of pride or wounded feelings on our part. It is a question of common sense. Does Mr. De Valera want to remain a partner of the Empire, or is he pursuing the will-o'-the-wisp of a Republic?" Mr. De Valera clearly declared his intention to remain in the Empire, no annuities could cloud the prospects, said Sir Thomas. —Reuter and British Wireless Service.

BORAH SPEAKS ON WAR DEBTS.

Reparations Must Be Settled.

CLIMAX IN AMERICA.

Minneapolis, Yesterday. Any economic conference was destined for failure unless the problems of reparations, war debts and disarmament were concurrently disposed of by international efforts, declared Senator Borah last night. He added that to hold an economic conference without a settlement of these problems would be tantamount to playing Hamlet without the Prince of Denmark.

Senator Borah dealt particularly with agriculture declaring the United States must take the lead, because only could it save itself from the depression through the co-operation of other nations, but the cancellation of war debts should not be considered unless the problem of reparations was permanently settled. When Europe would reduce the burden of armaments, the United States would be glad to cancel debts as an investment for permanent prosperity.

"The next six months will produce a climax in American affairs, calling for quick action in order to remove the basis of the trouble due to reparations, debts and disarmament," Senator Borah concluded. —Reuter.

INDO-CHINA RICE INDUSTRY.

Growers Appeal For Duties' Repeal.

Paris, July 17. A delegation from the Cochinchina rice growers' syndicate was received by the President of the Republic and M. Sarraut, Minister of the Colonies, and other officials.

After they had spoken of the condition of the rice growers in Cochinchina, they demanded the suppression of the export duties on rice and paddy, which they declared, put the prices above those of their competitors.

Replying to the intervention of Deputies Outrey and Varenne to the Colonial Commission, the Minister, M. Sarraut, said he was discussing the critical condition of the rice and paddy trade with his colleagues in the Government.

The Colonial Commission, following upon the audience to the delegation of the Rice Culture Syndicate, passed a resolution, insisting that the Government take action without delay to improve the condition of the rice growers and attempt to remedy the critical position which caused the sale of the crops at less than the cost of cultivation.

MOTOR CYCLE RELIABILITY TRIAL.

It is proposed that a Reliability Trial be run in the near future. A Meeting in this connection will be held in the Lounge, Lansdowne, Ltd., Exchange Building, on Tuesday next, the 9th instant, at 5.30 p.m.

All who are interested are invited to attend.

MORE RAIN.

To-day's weather report from the Royal Observatory states: "Pressure is highest near the Bonins, and the shallow depression remains over China."

The typhoon exists as a depression to the South-East of Vladivostok.

Forecast: S. winds, moderate, cloudy, occasional rain.

SAFETY FACTORS OF PARACHUTE.

Royal Air Force Display.

MANY LIVES SAVED.

Major Turner Writes Of Developments.

London, July 20. Major C. C. Turner, the Daily Telegraph Aviation Correspondent, writing in that paper on the occasion of the R.A.F. display, and referring to the wonderful parachute descents, says:—

"Every year at R.A.F. display parachuting is in the programme. But every pilot and every member of the crew of every R.A.F. aeroplane in every ascent is compelled to have a parachute for use in emergency."

"In the R.A.F. alone, since parachutes became compulsory, at least 100 lives have been saved by them. The standard type, the Irvin, is credited with more than 600 lives saved in all."

"Over ordinary country the odds against landing in trees—and that is not necessarily a dangerous landing—are heavy; falling on a greenhouse and being cut by the glass is extremely improbable."

"Actually, the parachutist can nearly always direct his descent by pulling on one side or the other of the rigging lines sufficiently to avoid railways, roads, prickly hedges, houses, or the lions' den at Whipsnade. If it be possible to get out clear of the aeroplane within only 200 feet of the ground all will be well, a condition which still further stresses the fact that the low altitude accident rather than the high is the worse."

"There is nothing in the launching of oneself into space to paralyse the faculties. Strange though it may seem, it is nevertheless a fact that a normal person can fall half a mile with unopened parachute without losing his senses."

"The professional can even keep his eye on a stop-watch, and delay pulling the ring until he has fallen a plumb 5,000 feet or more, and has attained the maximum speed for a falling human body. This is about 180 to 220 miles per hour."

"Every member of the R.A.F. knows what he has to do in a 'drop.' He first jumps clear, then he counts five seconds in order that the parachute, when opened, shall be quite free of the machine. Then he pulls the ring—about a 10-lb. pull."

"In such a drop there is no jar on the harness. All the parachutist feels is a gentle cushioning and fluttering as the chute opens, and for the next few seconds, or minutes, according to height, he may surrender himself to the sheer delight of it, the while he keeps an eye on the landing."

"In the landing itself he must keep limp, and fall forwards, and not attempt alighting on his feet, for the speed is about the same as that of jumping off a 10-ft. wall."

"The world record high drop was one of 24,400 feet. It took about eighteen minutes from start to finish."

PARAGUAYAN TROOPS HEAVILY SHELLED.

Although press messages indicate public excitement in both capitals, replies sent by Bolivian and Paraguayan Governments to the League's appeal give hope that a means will be found for a pacific settlement of the dispute. —British Wireless Service.

La Paz, Yesterday. The Bolivian Reply to the League of Nations' appeal, for a peaceful settlement of the dispute with Paraguay, while not refusing a pacific means for the solution of the controversy declares: "The acts place Paraguay outside the law and oblige us to defend ourselves energetically." —Reuter.

WHAT CONSTITUTES DESERTION?

The argument that the taking of a concubine without the consent of the principal wife constitutes desertion, was advanced by Mr. Hin-shing Lo at the close of an address yesterday at the Central Magistracy, when he appeared on behalf of Pau Sook-ching, a married woman who summoned her husband, YU Wah-tung, for desertion, and asked for a decree of maintenance. The case was defended by Mr. K. H. Adams, J.P., appearing for the husband. Judgment was reserved.

Finding A New Way Home

Via The Black Sea And
The Danube

ACROSS EUROPE

BY RIVER TO LINZ FROM BUCHAREST.

The all-important Danubian question so much discussed in the Press of to-day brings this great waterway of half a dozen countries into the minds of the general public; but it is not widely known to us of Western Europe that there is an excellent service of river steamers to carry tourists and travellers from Giurgiu in Roumania to Passau in Germany.

Last year I disembarked from the s.s. Rannura at Port Said, travelled via Cairo to Alexandria by train, to Constantinople by Khedivial Mail Line, and to Constanza on the Black Sea by Royal Roumanian Line; to Giurgiu via Bucharest by train, and practically right across Europe by Danube and Rhine.

The whole journey is surprisingly cheap. The first class fare from Alexandria to Constanza is about £12; and the Danube steamer tickets, including meals (which are paid for separately in the currency of the country) worked out at about 12s. or 15s. a day. Travellers' cheques or English £1 notes can be changed everywhere for hotels and incidental expenses.

In The Piræus. Less than two days after leaving Alexandria we woke to find ourselves in the calm waters of the harbour of Piræus; the s.s. Rashid was surrounded by craft of all kinds: Greek battleships, cargo boats from all over the world, rowing boats crammed with vendors of every kind of rubbish. We selected one of the least evil-looking guides who swarmed on board and went ashore, walking past the little cafes and booths where sailors of every nationality were drinking, smoking and bargaining, and took the electric train through cornfields, fig plantations and suburbs into Athens.

Onwards, late in the evening, through Byron's beloved "Isles of Greece," once the scenes of much plundering by the corsairs of the Mediterranean. Morning found us in the lovely bay of Smyrna, encircled by hills wooded with silvery olives and dark cypresses, among which clustered red-roofed white houses. On the quay—where traces of the disastrous fire still remain—decreept horses pull ramshackle trams, and small children run after one to sell quantities of luscious cherries.

Smyrna and the glistening piles of salt along the coast are left behind and we pass more islands, pinky-gold in the rays of the setting sun; through the Dardanelles at night, where the monument to the fallen British is lit up every sixty seconds by flashes from the powerful lighthouse. Dawn in the Sea of Marmara, and by noon we saw Constantinople's mosques silhouetted between blue sky and blue sea.

In Constantinople. Our three days in Constantinople were all too short, and we sadly sailed up the Bosphorus in the s.s. Dacia among the medley company of Turks, Greek priests with their long black hair in "buns" at the back below their birettas, and Albanians in long white stockings, tasseled navy blue caps and skirts with the traditional 32 yards of calico. And so through the narrow channel that separates Europe and Asia with its old fortresses, huge white palaces and tiny villages half hidden in the wooded banks.

Eighteen hours on the Black Sea and we were in Constanza, the ancient Constantiana founded in the year 300 A.D. in honour of the sister of Constantine the Great. The only harbour of the Black Sea open all the year round, and the fashionable watering-place of Roumania, it is a city of synagogues, mosques, churches of all creeds. In one of the squares is a statue of the poet Ovid, who was exiled and died here.

By train past wheat-fields, ploughed fields, long stretches of marshes, willow trees, pools, with masses of water-lilies, rich pasture land, long-horned cattle, fat black pigs and rather thin horses, wells worked by a long pole with a bucket at one end and a weight at the other, fields of purple flowers, like catmint and yellow mustard plant. At the stations, peasant girls with kerchiefed heads sold us strawberries and bunches of wild flowers; the language was quite unintelligible, but anyone connected with railway stations always seems to know what to do with tongue-tied foreigners, what they want and whither they are going.

Then Bucharest. Neither eastern nor yet what one terms European: just Balkan. We stayed two nights in a mediocre hotel, none too clean. It was a fete day, and in the Parc Carol were strolling hundreds of peasants in national costume—the women had wide flounced skirts, baggy sleeves caught at the wrists, embroidered bodices and aprons, or just a strip of embroidery hanging down front and back, the men long trousers gathered in at the ankles, a jacket reaching to the knees, belted at the waist, every founce or hem worked in wool or silk in beautiful patterns. The main street, the Calea Victoria, has some amusing cafes and nouveaute shops attractive to anyone who has been months in the East. The river, the Dambovitza, is merely a trickle the colour of gravy.

Another train took us to Giurgiu, the village which is the terminus of the river steamers.

On The River.

That evening we were installed in a spotlessly clean paddle boat whose double berth cabins were fitted with hot and cold water, travelling slowly up the broad grey river. The south bank was Bulgaria, "the home of roses," where rose-leaf jam and delicious sweets are made from the petals. As we neared the "Iron Gates" the scenery became more, billy and wilder. The "gates" are two stone walls, one in midstream and one on the bank, built some forty years ago to enable ships to navigate the once impassable rapids.

Forty-eight hours from Giurgiu is Belgrade. Every day it seemed we had to pay for our meals in a different coinage; hundreds of lei, a reasonable number of dinars, or a few pengos. In Belgrade it is a matter of luck whether or not the suspicious Slav officials will let one ashore, visa or no visa, but we were lucky. The steamer anchored for the night, and we had time to look at Yugo-Slavia's capital, and sit in a cafe among olive-skinned, well-dressed women and officers with white coats, red trousers and shining steel swords, like those of the Ruritania of plays.

The "Blue Danube."

By daybreak the Jupiter was struggling upstream again, between the low marshy banks of the "Blue Danube," still a muddy grey; and evening found us in Hungary, and noon next day in Hungary's capital, Budapest is one of Europe's most beautiful cities—and to approach her by water is to arrive at the front door, so to speak. All the finest buildings are along the river bank: on the newer Pesth side are the magnificent hotels de luxe, and the domed Houses of Parliament; while on the Buda side (the original city), are the St. Gellert Statue, on the site from where the saint was rolled in a nail-studded barrel into the river below, the "Halasz Battya" Fishers' Bastion, the old Coronation Church, the palace where Hungary's kings used to dwell.

Away from Budapest, past the "Margit Hid," the pleasure resort of the city, with Czechoslovakia on the north and Hungary on the south, stopping at Pressburg or Bratislava, whose ruined four-towered castle dominates the town. The influx of the Marava river marks the Austrian frontier; sentries are everywhere and boats ready to chase delinquents are moored to the banks.

In Vienna.

Vienna is reached next day, and after three days of delight there (Continued at foot of next column.)

we embarked once more. A few miles outside Vienna is the monastery of Klosterneuburg, built to be a palace; then Tullin, an old Roman settlement, where later the Nibelungen were supposed to celebrate their festivals; Altenworth, where Charlemagne conquered the Avars; Krems, an old world village with quaint courtyards, churches and tortuous streets winding along the banks; Durnstein, where Blondel sang and freed Richard Coeur de Lion; high hills, vineyards, trees, fields; Weissenkirchen, an artists' paradise; cornfields with poppies and cornflowers; old castles, more villages; every scrap of ground cultivated; houses built on sharp rocks or nestled in sheltered corners; the Wachau, the loveliest part of the Danube; the "Bruders" or rapids; then Linz, the end of our river trip. Smaller steamers ply as far as Passau, another day's journey up the river, but we disembarked at Linz in order to take the train to Munich and afterwards Nurnberg. Thence on by train to Mainz, where we boarded the Rhine steamer, filled with rowdy tourists; beer-drinking, gesticulating, perspiring; not nearly as peaceful as our three Danube boats—Calcutta Statesman.

TALKIE TALKS

by
DianeNEW NAMES WANTED AT LOCAL THEATRESCHANGE IN PRODUCTIONS DESIRED.

The most important thing this week is to comment on the remarks conveyed in the letters I have received, asking when the Managers of the local theatres are going to give us new names. The Paramount stars like Miriam Hopkins, Sylvia Sydney, Chevalier, Bancroft, etc., the Fox galaxy of talent, Farrell and Janet Gaynor, Sally Eilers, Dunn, Tracy, Joan Bennett, Ellsland, etc., the M.G.M. with Greta Garbo, Marian Davies, Gable, Montgomery, Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, Haines, Marie Dressler, etc. are all tremendous favourites, but I think we have seen them all so often, that every trick and mannerism is becoming familiar to us. Surely the "powers-that-be" know of the enormous amount of fresh talent that the other studios have on their pay rolls.

Give us more Universal, Columbia, R.K.O.—Pathe, Radio, Warners, United Artists—and above all—First National. I am well aware that we are occasionally given a few from these studios, but they are not the finest ones—let me assure you what about Barthelmess in "Alias the Doctor"? Dick has never appeared in a picture except it is a winner. Ricardo Cortez in "The Symphony of Six Million," Paul Muni and Anne Dvorak in "Scarface"—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in "It's Tough to be Famous," Constance Bennett in "Bought," Anne Harding and Leslie Howard in "Devotion," Richard Dix in "The Lost Legion." I could go on for pages telling of plays that will fill the theatres.

Why do we never see two of the biggest sensations in films—Edward G. Robinson and James Cagney? Are we to lose William Powell, Ruth Chatterton, Kay Francis, now that they have gone to Warners? Give us fresh names: Warren William, Melvyn Douglas, Marian Marsh, Walter Huston, George Arliss, Barbara Stanwyck, Pat O'Brien, Ina Claire, and so on with a long list. I do not think the local theatres would have cause to complain of this world-wide depression if they gave us variety which, after all is the spice of life. Here, so many of us depend for our only pleasures on the talkies, and although I admit the merits of the three studios I have named, I do want some of the real worth-while films about which I read.

"Polly of the Circus." Life in the saw-dust ring will always have a general appeal, and to see two of the most popular people in the film world as hero and heroine will be a big attraction. In "Polly of the Circus," we have Marian Davies as a most appealing little trapeze artist in the circus. Clark Gable is miscast as the Minister, (he makes a better gangster) but the supporting cast is excellent, and if you can believe the old story and can still get a thrill from watching the daring stunts of the heroine's "double" high up on the trapeze—I can assure you of a pleasant evening at the Queen's.

"One Hour With You." Years ago we thought "The Marriage Circle" the last word in sophistication, and even now with Chevalier and that subtle touch of Lubitsch we can still find "One Hour With You" naughty, but nice. I regret that the music does not give much opportunity for the loveliest voice on the films, but Jeanette MacDonald has the truest flair for comedy and is so pretty. Genevieve Tobin slinks in true vamp style, she may have fascinated the handsome Doctor, but she is too much of a poseur for my taste.

Chevalier has never been better, and there is no questioning his "pantomimic ability." (I wonder when he will give us a film that is not quite so sexy?). Buggles and Young have far too little to do. The music is disappointing, but the production is priceless. Sort of thing that must be seen to be appreciated. Chevalier and MacDonald are a most perfectly matched pair, but I still maintain their first play, "Love Parade," has yet to be beaten. (King's).

Queen's Attractions. "Leathernecking" is an old film with Eddie Foy, Lilyan Tashman and Irene Dunne hardly worth recommending. Later on in the week we have the late Louis Wolheim, directing and acting in "The Sin Ship." Mary Astor is a lovely heroine and Ian Keith and Hugh Herbert head the supporting players. Wolheim was a grand actor, but it is a difficult job, directing and acting at the same time, so this film is not one of his best. Both due at the Queen's.

ARDUOUS CAMPAIGN AGAINST TIBETANS.Fresh Actions Are Anticipated.WELL-ARMED ENEMY.
Chinese Losses Set At 2,000 Dead.

Nanking, July 22.—In connection with the Tibet-Sikang trouble, the Central Government is in receipt of another telegram from General Liu Wen-hui, Chairman of the Szechuan Provincial Government and concurrently Defence Commissioner for the Szechuan-Sikang border, reporting the capture of Tachieh-shih (Monastery), another stronghold of the Tibetans.

The message states that the Tibetans have rushed 20 newly trained "Tai-pen" (battalions) to Teko, about 145 miles west of Kanizui, which are equipped with up-to-date arms purchased from abroad, in readiness for a counter-attack on the combined Szechuan-Sikang forces.

More than 2,000 officers and soldiers of the Government forces have sacrificed their lives in the successive battles with the Tibetans, General Liu states. Not only are our troops facing a shortage of rations and ammunition but the remoteness of the front lines has added to the difficulty of transporting supplies. The Central Government is urged to grant adequate provisions and formulate concrete measures for coping with the situation.

According to a Lanchow despatch, in order to unify military activities, the Provincial forces of Kokonor (Chinghai) and Ninghsia will be placed under the command of the Lanchow Office of the Si-an Pacification Headquarters.

It is reported that the Tibetans are trying to recruit a number of natives of Kokonor to serve as the vanguards of the invading army on Yushu, south-western Kokonor. General Ma Pu-fang, Commander of the newly organized 9th Division, has warned the natives not to be influenced. It is learnt that 100,000 rounds of ammunition have already been sent to General Ma's units by the Central Government.—Kuo Min.

New picture. This was true of Nelson in his first talkie. He took only a nominal salary and gambled on the future of the talkies. Did they revolutionise the picture industry and create a new art?

I have always been a tremendous admirer of this artist, because I knew him years ago when he was the idol of the Winter Garden, New York. His recent pictures have been poor material, and if this newest release is also a failure, it is his "swan song." I heartily wish him success. There are so many thousands who think Al is still the greatest singer of the "Mammy" song.

Clark Gable is sporting the fashionable moustache, made popular by Colman, in "The Strange Interlude" with Norma Shearer. Wallace Beery made an awful mistake at the Premiers of "Grand Hotel," by appearing in a gown similar to that worn by Greta Garbo, and strutting the stage. I hear that this action, which was in very bad taste, was hissed by the crowd.

George Raft, after his success in "Scarface" and "Dancers in the Dark" has been signed to featured roles by Paramount.

Jean Harlow, wearing a red wig over the famous platinum blond is going to surprise us by magnificent acting in "The Red-headed Woman."

We shall see Johnny Weismuller shortly in "Tarzan of the Apes." He is still under contract to appear in vaudeville sporting a certain bathing suit, but when that is finished he will continue with a series of Tarzan stories.

Lewis Stone's daughter, by one of his wives, (I forget how many he has had in that city where "They marry in haste and repent at leisure") has arrived from boarding school to live with her new stepmother who is about the same age as the step-daughter.

Marianne, now recovered from her illness, is at work again with Polly Morgan. Jean Harlow has just presented her with a life size bust because of her when they were together in "The Sign of the Cross." Plague Prevention.

"ARMED RESISTANCE"
AGAINST JAPAN.Central Authorities
Set Policies.TO MAINTAIN DIPLOMACY.
China Will Defend Jehol With All Strength.

Nanking, July 26.—"Armed resistance without neglecting the methods of diplomacy" is the policy decided upon by the Central Political Council if the armies of Japan invade Jehol. Apart from despatching urgent telegraphic instructions on July 22 to General Tang Yu-lin, Chairman of the Jehol Provincial Government, and General Chang Haueh-liang respectively to resist the Japanese invasion and to send large reinforcements to assist in the defence of Jehol, it is understood that the Government is lodging immediately with the Japanese Government a strong protest against the aerial bombardment of Chaoyang by the Japanese air force as well as the unprovoked attack on Chinese troops at the Chaoyang Temple by the Japanese infantry.

The National Government, it is further understood, will despatch a Note to the Secretariat of the League of Nations, drawing the latter's attention to the fresh aggression on the part of the Japanese military which will result inevitably in further aggravation of the Sino-Japanese situation and constitutes, therefore, a flagrant violation of the various League resolutions which Japan has solemnly accepted.

Both military and diplomatic means will thus be resorted to simultaneously in coping with the new menace.

It is understood that tentative plans of defence against an invasion of Jehol by the Japanese have been decided upon.

The determination of the Government to resist any invasion on the part of the Japanese, may be seen in the fact that at the Central Political Council meeting—which unanimously decided upon the policy of resistance—all of the members present announced their determination to resign en bloc, should the military authorities fail to put up a fight against Japanese invaders.

The reports of the clash between the Chinese and Japanese land forces at Chaoyang, on the Jehol-Liaoning border, state that fighting occurred on July 17, as the result of an attack by a detachment of Japanese infantry upon Chinese troops under Regimental Commander Chang engaged in bandit-suppression south of the Chaoyang Temple.

According to the reports, a horde of bandits on July 17 held up a passenger train on the Chinchow-Chaoyang railway bound for Chinchow. The raid took place at Nanking, near Pailiao. Hearing of the incident, a regiment of Chinese troops under Commander Chang rushed to the scene to disperse the bandits.

As they passed south of the Chaoyang Temple, they sighted two Japanese armoured cars heading in the direction of Chaoyang city. When Commander Chang attempted to make inquiries as to the Japanese purpose the Japanese troops opened fire. A severe engagement lasting over two hours then ensued. It is reported that Commander Chang was wounded during the battle.—Kuo Min.

CHOLERA SPREADS TO SHANSI.Shensi Suffering From Epidemic.

Nanking, July 28.—According to an urgent telegram from the Shensi Provincial Department of Civil Affairs, the epidemic of cholera in Huayin, a district west of Tungshan in eastern Shensi, has been so violent there that over 1,000 victims have succumbed within the month. An appeal is made for medical relief to check the further spread of the disease.

Shansi province, which had escaped the epidemic, is now reported to be also affected. A Taiyuan message reports that cholera is raging in a number of districts in the northern and southern parts of the province. Added to this is the threat of an epidemic of epidemic plague, this malignant disease having appeared at Hinghsien and Hinghsien in western Shansi. The Provincial Government has established a Plague Prevention Office to coordinate the measures for preventing the further spread of the disease.

WOMEN TRAFFICKERS IN CHILDREN.

Between Kwong Chau Wan & Hong Kong.

POLICE COURT SEQUEL.

In the Central Police Court this morning before Mr. Wynne-Jones, Detective-Inspector F. W. Shaftain described one of two Chinese women charged, as a trafficker in children plying between Hong Kong and Kwong Chau Wan. Both defendants pleaded guilty to taking part in the sale of a 4-year-old Chinese boy for $260, and were fined $250 or three months' gaol in default each.

The second woman was caught at 77 Shanghai Street in the act of putting through the sale. She had been actually hawking the child in Yaumati. She had in her possession a deed of presentation for $260. The first defendant was subsequently traced at a house in Square Street.

The second defendant stated to the Police that the boy's parents were both dead and he was brought from Kwong Chau Wan by his grandmother.

The boy claimed that his parents were alive, "I am not at all satisfied that the boy was handed over by his grandmother" he concluded. "I have a suspicion that he was kidnapped. We will try and trace the parents through the Po Leung Kuk. This is not a case where the people are genuinely in need of money. I am satisfied that both these people are traffickers in children, principally the second defendant. The first defendant is more of a go-between."

DANGEROUS DRIVING IN WEST POINT.

Sergeant Howell Injures Knee.

Convicted on a summons for dangerous driving in Queen's Road West, So Wing Tai, the driver of a hire car, was fined $25 by Mr. Schofield in the Central Magistracy this morning. Sergeant Howell prosecuted, and stated that the defendant's car was the last of three cars parked on the wrong side of the road, facing east. On the Sergeant's approach the defendant's car shot out across the road. In avoiding a head-on collision, Sergeant Howell turned left injuring his knee against the dash-board of the car.

MINOR MOTOR ACCIDENTS.

While driving his car in Bonham Road, near High Street yesterday, Mr. R. P. Shaw, of Pokfulam Road, knocked down a Chinese girl. She ran away without being treated.

Knocked down by a hire car in Hollywood Road, a Chinese sustained injuries which may prove to be serious. He is now lying in the Government Civil Hospital. The car was driven by Yue Chu-sang, of 475 Hennessy Road.

CANTON NAVAL OVERHAUL.

New Head Conducts Investigation. CREWS FOR HONG KONG.

Drastic measures are being taken to improve the standard of the Canton Naval forces, according to a naval official who came down from Canton to the Colony on important business recently.

Under the command of Mr. Chang Tse-ying, it is said that the personnel of the whole fleet is being investigated, with a view to removing the dissatisfied element. The gunboats at present in Hong Kong harbour are expected to leave for Canton in a few days. The South Western Political Council has appointed Mr. Chu Chiu-sun, Lee Sin-kun, and Lee Man-hing, to consult with Admiral Chan Chak, and also to negotiate with the Hong Kong Government, and it is now stated that arrangements are complete for the removal of the ships to Canton.

Two hundred officers and crew are expected to arrive in the Colony to-morrow to supplement the crews already on the ships.

MAJESTIC CAPTAIN. PROMOTED.

Commodore Of White Star Fleet.

London, Yesterday. Captain Eltrant, Commander of White Star Liner "Majestic" has been appointed Commodore of the "White Star Fleet." Captain Eltrant has been in the service of the White Star line for over 30 years.—British Wireless Service.

The quadruple screw steamer Majestic was built in 1921, at Hamburg, Germany, and was formerly named the Bismarck. She has a gross tonnage of 56,621 tons, and a net tonnage of 26,249 tons.

The Majestic runs between Southampton and New York.

SHANGHAI CENSUS RETURNS.

Population Gains Over May.

Shanghai, July 31. According to the latest census compiled by the Greater Shanghai Municipal Bureau of Public Safety, the population of the Chinese city for the month of June totals 1,496,334 persons of whom 1,486,367 are Chinese and 9,967 foreigners. The number of households is 303,820, consisting of 301,648 Chinese and 2,172 foreign families.

A comparison with the preceding month of May shows an increase of 218,623 persons and 37,816 households.—Kuo Min.

The Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson (Director of Public Works) was yesterday sworn in as an official member of the Legislative Council.

FORMER PRESIDENT'S WIDOW HERE.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt A Visitor.

GUEST OF G.O.C.

Mrs. Roosevelt, widow of the late Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, a former President of the United States, arrived in Hong Kong this morning on the Dollar liner, s.s. President Cleveland, from Manila.

Seen by a "China Mail" reporter this morning, Mrs. Roosevelt declined to give an interview, but stated that she thought Hong Kong a most charming place.

The object of her visit, Mrs. Roosevelt said, was to meet her two sons who are arriving on the President Hayes to-morrow. She will return with them to Manila on the same ship, and spend a vacation with them.

While in the Colony she is the guest of His Excellency, Major-General J. W. Sandilands, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., at Flagstaff House.

As Mrs. Roosevelt's visit is purely informal, no official functions have been arranged in her honour.

She was met on the ship at 9 a.m. this morning by Mr. J. E. Black, Vice-Consul for U.S.A., and Captain D. R. M. Cameron.

Mrs. Roosevelt will be the guest of Mr. Douglas Jenkins, the United States Consul-General, at a luncheon party at the latter's residence. "Over-bays," Repulse Bay, to-day.

SPIRIT WON'T SLAP JUDGE HOLDS.

But Plumbers Might Be Tempted.

Vienna, July 5. In a Vienna local court the magistrate was called upon to decide whether a box on the ears was administered at a seance by a disembodied spirit or by a corporate Viennese plumber. The latter was charged by the plaintiff, Herr Franz, with hitting him in the face during the seance.

"It was a phenomenon," declared the plumber, Herr Thomas, to the magistrate. "It was the spirit Amru which hit him. He never did like Franz."

Franz sprang up angrily, crying: "That's a libel!" The magistrate protested that he could really not decide as to the likes or dislikes of a disembodied spirit.

When Fraulein Hermine, the medium, testified that the defendant could easily have struck the plaintiff unobserved in the darkened room, the magistrate said: "Thank you. Now I can pronounce sentence. Firstly I declare Amru, although he is not formally charged, to be entirely innocent. Secondly, I fine Herr Thomas 100 schillings (£4), or four days' imprisonment."
